DECEMBER WEDNESDAY 4th

 Sciences Po Lille

09:30 am - Greeting and coffee

10:00 am - Choice of workshops :

- Raising awareness: the starting point for cooperation

Decentralized cooperation can both feed and be fed by territorial animation dynamics to raise awareness among diverse audiences about sustainable development and international solidarity issues. In this workshop, participants will collaboratively explore methodologies and tools to foster European cooperation at the local level, engaging various stakeholders around shared challenges.

- Gender-based approach to conflict : a blind spot in our cooperation projects ?

The repercussions of armed conflicts differ according to gender, exacerbating sexist stereotypes and intensifying gender-based violence. Russia's war of aggression against Ukraine is no exception. The aim of this workshop is to identify the needs and concrete actions for integrating this dimension into cooperation projects.

- How can the territorial approach promote European integration ?

The aim of this workshop is to explore the contributions of local authorities and local players in supporting Ukraine's European integration.

11:30am - European and societal issues in the Balkans in the light of the war in Ukraine

- François Grünewald, President of Groupe URD

12:30 pm - Cocktail lunch / end of the Forum
